

The Colonnade

Volume V.

Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Ga., September 25, 1929

Number 1

G. S. C. OPENS THIRTY-NINTH SESSION SEPT. 10TH.

The 39th annual opening of the Georgia State College for Women took place on September 11, 1929 at the chapel exercises in the auditorium. President, Dr. J. L. Beeson introduced Reverend Yarbrough of the Methodist church who led the devotional. After the Lord's prayer, the entire student body sang one of the old familiar hymns.

Miss Jenkins played a very lovely organ solo which was followed by a trio, sung by Miss Tucker, Mrs. Longino and Mrs. Long.

All of the old girls were glad and proud to hear Dr. Beeson's welcome address, and six hundred new girls thrilled to the traditional warmth of the few simply spoken words.

Two members of the Board were present, and both gave impressive talks. Honorable Miller S. Bell spoke on the appropriation given the college by the legislature, and how popular G. S. C. W. is with that group of men. The faculty and students were glad to hear that one-third of the total appropriations made for schools come to this college. Mr. Bell presented Dr. Beeson with the checks for two months work, which he had just received from Registrar Reid of the University.

Dr. Tigner gave an interesting account of the times he has seen the college go through, and of the years he has spent on the board.

The president of the Alumnae Association, Miss Katherine Scott brought a short, message, from the old girls to the new. Reverend Harding of the Episcopal church welcomed the girls to the churches of Milledgeville.

One of the reasons for so much fun at G. S. C. is the Y. W. C. A. Miss Daughtery, who is the General Secretary, welcomed old and new girls and invited everybody to the sing in the auditorium that night.

Dr. Beeson dismissed the girls, and everyone left feeling that a good year is stretching out before her, with plenty of good times, and work. The motto for this year's work as given by Dr. Beeson is: "Work, Smile, and Be Happy."

BALDWIN COUNTY GIRLS TO ORGANIZE

A meeting of the Baldwin county students will be held as soon as possible, according to a statement made by Dr. Beeson, at which time the rules for town girls will be read and explained, and some form of organization will be perfected. Mrs. J. I. Terry, the very able and enthusiastic supervisor of the activities for the girls not boarding in the dormitories will assist Dr. Beeson at this meeting.

Over seventy Baldwin county girls have registered, of which number about twenty are new students. There are over twelve girls from other counties who are living with relatives in town. Dr. Beeson, Mrs. Terry and town and county students are expecting a successful and profitable organization this year by means of which the Baldwin county students may come in closer contact with each other and with the college.

SENIOR CLASS NAMES OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

Thursday morning during the chapel hour the primaries of the Senior election were held by Dr. Beeson. The list of requirements was read and the new rules concerning eligibility. The president of the Y. W. C. A., the editors-in-chief of the Colonnade and Corinthian, the business manager of the Corinthian and Colonnade were declared ineligible for office, as their duties are heavy.

Dr. Beeson invited the girls to meet him and the counting committee with Mrs. Beaman, in Ennis Recreation Hall at 7:30. He said for everybody to dress up. So the gathering at 7:30 was a gala event. Miss Dorothy Jay of Fitzgerald was elected president of the class, Miss Eleanor Piper, Covington, vice-president; Miss Kitisie Melton, Decatur, secretary; Miss Margaret Coyne, Atlanta, treasurer.

Dr. Beeson gave a short interesting talk on the advancement made by education in recent years. He urged the Seniors to uphold the traditions of the school and set an example for the lower classes. The fine spirit of the class of 1930 has been watched with pride for three years and this year is expected to uphold that record, and set new ones.

A delightful refreshment course was prepared by Mrs. Peiratte and Mrs. Beaman, and served from an attractive setting of flowers.

POSTER COMMITTEE HAS NEW IDEAS FOR THIS YEAR

When you first entered your dormitory on September 10, did you notice the artistic posters giving you welcome to your new home? Much praise has been given the poster committee for these posters, and others also, because they placed twelve in the different dormitories as their means of expressing their welcome.

Not only did the committee of which Iversen Dews is chairman make twelve, but the committee drew clever ones for the "Y" sing, and two for the party which was given in honor of the Freshmen.

The work of the poster committee is to advertise the various things that happen on the campus.

In a ninterview with the chairman, Miss Dews stated that the committee had been discussing the usage of small weekly papers as a means of advertising the Y. W. C. A. activities as well as those of the campus.

She also stated that an exchange department would be conducted this year. Posters will be exchanged with other colleges to be used in the various types of work. The list of the colleges on the exchange will be published later.

GERTRUDE GILMORE ELECTED

Everyone on the campus regrets the fact that Evelyn Hammett, the morning watch chairman in Y. W. C. A. could not return to school this year.

Gertrude Gilmore, a Junior, was elected by the old Y members to take Evelyn's place on cabinet. Gertrude was a member of Sophomore commission and has been a loyal Y worker for two years.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO FACULTY

Nineteen new members have been added to the faculty of G. S. C. W. and are being given a warm welcome by the girls.

Doctor L. C. Lindsley, of Williamsburg, Va., comes to us from the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. He received his A. B. degree from William and Mary College and his Ph. D. from Cornell. Dr. Lindsley is head of the department of chemistry.

Doctor Sidney L. McGhee, of Keyser, West Virginia, is head of the department of French. He took his A. B. and M. A. degree from West Va. University; he studied in the University of Toulouse, France; and he received his Doctor's degree from the University of Montpellier, France. He comes to G. S. C. W. from the University of Tennessee.

Miss Elizabeth Boykin of Carrollton, Georgia, who received her A. B. degree from G. S. T. C. in Athens; and her M. A. degree from New York University in June, is associate professor of Physical Education.

Miss Mary Bees Bynum of Booneville, Mississippi, new Primary Supervisor and Critic in the practice school, received her A. B. degree from the Mississippi State College for Women and her M. A. degree from George Peabody College this June.

Miss Helen Greene of Atlanta, Ga., is instructor in History, she received her A. B. degree from G. S. C. W., and will receive her M. A. degree from Emory University.

Miss Annie Harper, of Milledgeville, who received her B. S. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, is a critic teacher in the Practice School.

Miss Lena Martin of LaGrange, Ga., associate professor of Chemistry, took her A. B. degree at the Middle Tennessee State Normal College, Murfreesboro, and her M. A. degree from Emory University. She comes to us from Columbia College, Columbia, S. C.

Miss Bess Neely of Atlanta, is assistant professor of Art. She received her B. S. degree from G. S. C. W., and she has studied one year in the New York Fine and Applied Art and one year in the Paris School of Fine and Applied Art.

Mrs. Aline C. Owens, is assistant professor of Household Science. She received her A. B. degree from Shorter College, and her M. A. degree from Columbia University. She comes to us from the Martha Washington College of Abingdon, Virginia.

Miss Elna I. Perkins of Pittsfield, New Hampshire, associate professor of Health, took her B. S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She has been teaching in the Saint Mary's School, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Miss Lila Lee Riddell of Dunbarton, Virginia, associate professor of Household Science, received her B. S. degree from the State Teachers College Harrisonburg, Virginia, and her M. A. degree from Columbia University. She comes to us from Belhaven College, Jackson, Mississippi.

Miss Kathleen Sofley of Charlotte, North Carolina, teacher of Latin and Critic in the Peabody High School,

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND CONFERENCE IN GENEVA

Four faculty members from the Georgia State College for Women attended the meeting of the World Federation of Education Association convening from July 25 to August 3 at Geneva, Switzerland. The four delegates appointed by Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, President of the National Education Association, were Dr. George Harris Webber, head of the Department of Education, Dean William T. Wynn, head of the Department of English and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Miss Winifred Crowell, Associate Professor of English, and Mr. Linton S. Fowler, Bursar of the Georgia State College for Women.

After attending the conference the delegates traveled extensively both of the continent and in England and returned to America in time for the opening of the Georgia State College for Women.

HISTORY CLUB MEETS

On Tuesday September 17, the first meeting of the History Club for the year 1929-30 was held in Dr. Johnson's class room. The following officers were elected.

President—Idalene Casley.
Vice-President—Catherine Duggan.
Secretary—Mary Bohannon.
Treasurer—Frances Tarpley.
Chairman of Program Committee—Dorcus Rucker.

received her A. B. from Winthrop College, and received her M. A. degree from Cornell University.

Miss Steele E. Steele of Birmingham, Alabama, associate professor of Household Science, took her A. B. and B. S. degrees from the University of Missouri, and her M. A. degree from Columbia University. She comes to us from Winthrop College at Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Miss Lillian D. Curry of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, associate professor of Household Art, received her B. S. and M. A. degrees from Teachers College, Columbia University. She has been teaching in the State Normal School at Cortland, New York.

Miss Hazel Moore of Oriental, North Carolina, associate professor of Art, received her A. B. degree from Womans College of Montgomery, Alabama, and her M. A. degree from Peabody College, Nashville. She has been a student in Columbia University and in the New York School of Fine and Applied Art. She has been a member of the faculty of the East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, for the past year.

Miss Marie Tucker of Sandersville, Georgia, who received her A. B. degree from G. S. C. W. in June, is a critic teacher in the Practice School.

Miss Eleanor Brannen of Milledgeville, who received her B. S. degree in Education from G. S. C. W. in June, is a critic teacher in the Peabody Practice School.

Miss Katherine Weaver of Griffin, Georgia, assistant in the Bursar's office, is an A. B. graduate of the Georgia State College for Women in the class of 1929.

Miss Winifred Fowler, of Milledgeville, instructor in Biology, received her B. S. degree in General Science from G. S. C. W., in June, 1929.

Y. W. C. A. GIVES PARTY FOR FRESHMEN SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening at eight o'clock the Y. W. C. A. entertained the Freshmen with an opening frolic. The student body and members of the faculty assembled in the auditorium.

Bright colored paper caps worn by the students, lent a festive air to the occasion. The girls from Bell Hall and Bell Annex wore, as their head-dresses, lavender paper bells, tied with lavender bows. The Ennis girls wore bows of green hair ribbon. The girls from Mansion and Mansion Annex wore yellow paper caps. Those from Atkinson wore blue caps. The Terrell girls wore bands of pink ribbon tied in bows. Terrell A girls wore rose colored caps in the shape of a flower. The Terrell B and C girls wore rose colored paper rosettes tied on with rose streamers.

A cordial welcome was extended to the guests in behalf of the Y. W. C. A. by Ann Hicks, Chairman of the Social Committee. Songs of welcome to the Freshmen were led by Margaret Cunningham.

A skit entitled "Mrs. Jiggs Gives A Musical Tea," written by Mrs. Neile Womack Hines, was presented by the upper classmen. He part of Mrs. Jiggs was taken by Susie Dell Reamy and Vandiven Osment played the part of the negro maid the guests at the tea were Mary Rogers,atherine Hatcher, Idell Collins, Jewell Dodd, Louise Chambliss, Frances Fordham, May Elliot, Vera Hunt, and Kitisie Melton. Those taking part in the dances were Miss Marie Smith, Sally Hall, Sally Bryant, Genevieve Huff, Elizabeth Isom, Margaret Candler, Lucy Candler, Etienne McCaney and Geraldine Brag.

A dance, "In The Moonlight" was given by the dancers who took part in the skit. Beatrice Howard sang "The Little Cabin In The Pines." The entire assemblage sang Alma Mater and as the audience filed out they were served with chocolate lily cups.

VESPER SERVICES BRING NEW IDEAS TO STUDENTS

The first mid-week vesper service was held on Thursday night, September 19. The first two vesper services will be directed as sings in order to learn the Y. W. C. A. songs. Mrs. Hines conducted the first vesper program.

The remainder of the Thursday night vesper services will be devoted to a trip around the world. An insight to the customs and characteristics of foreign lands and people will be given by members of the faculty who travelled abroad this past summer.

Sunday night vespers will be given over to talks, interesting and colorful pageants, visiting students, and lectures bearing on Y. W. C. A. work.

Plans are being carefully worked out in order to present programs of deep interest and educational value to the students on the campus. Since several of the teachers have been abroad this summer, several will give interesting talks on different countries.

G. S. C. W. For The Alumna

THE ALUMNA For G. S. C. W.

THE ALUMNAE EDITOR

The Editor, she sits around
And wonders what to write;
She's got to tell about folks
And yet not start a fight.
The Editor must have the dope.
She wants the news and stuff.
Unless someone will give it.
This job is mighty tough.
The Editor just wants to know
What all the girls are doing—
About marriages (or even dates or honeymooners' cooing).
Positions, visits or the like
And what's become of Sally!
On each of the Alumnae
She tries to keep a tally.
The Editor, she sits around
And wonders what to write
She looks for news the whole day long
And dreams of it at night.
Now student, help the Editor
With this contribution stuff;
Just deluge her with Alumnae news
Until she cries, "Enough."

—SELECTED.

This Alumnae page in the Colonnade is only one year old. Many months we longed for some regular means of communication with the students. Realizing the necessity of keeping in touch with Alumnae out in the state, and the advantage of keeping before the present student body, the fact that the Alumnae are interested in them, and are looking forward to the time when they too will be Alumnae, a very small number of interested people, are endeavoring to make this page interesting and useful. News of old girls is always eagerly sought. Perhaps you find today, news of a friend from whom you have had no message in years—and perhaps you know of other news which we have not printed here. Why not tell us that bit of news?

You can help us so much if you will make friends with the Alumnae Editor and tell her about all of the "old girls" from your home town. Our efforts to keep track of each graduate would fail indeed, if we did not receive help from the student body.

The Alumnae Editor's job is a far-reaching one, for she is trying to reach each Alumnae, even those in foreign lands. Her task is a most difficult one, for her subjects are so scattered. How she must tear her hair and have nightmares when enough news to fill the page isn't available. Help make her task a more pleasant one and a more profitable one, by telling her of the marriages, deaths, changes of homes and positions, chosen occupations, and visits of our Alumnae.

Miss Mabel Parker, '29, is doing stenographic work in Sandersville, Ga.

Miss Katherine McCrackin, '29, is teaching in Lumber City, Ga.

Miss Ellie Ruth Lewis, '29, is teaching in Lythe, Ga.

OUR FRESHMEN

Our Freshmen are a fine lot this year now won't you agree? Perhaps on arriving they were just a little bit astonished at the great number of girls who were dressed exactly alike in the brown and white, but on looking down on their own garb they probably thought, "I belong to their ranks, for aren't we dressed alike." This probably gave them the first sense of really belonging here. Then maybe, too, the beauty and fineness of the campus helped them to want to call this their college home. The friendliness of the faculty and matrons helps to add to the Freshmen's rapid acclimation to their surroundings.

For these reasons and many others the Freshmen will soon become an integral part of the student body and love their college as those they found here love it. Just now schedules may seem a veritable crossword puzzle, and their advisory teacher is just the hardest person in the world to find, their study hall keeper may ask them to do things they never did want to do—and yet its all in college life! Classes seem so terribly hard to find and there are so many different buildings, no wonder the awed Freshman from Ennis called out in her confusion to her chum, "Come on, Margaret, let's go to this physical torture and get it over with."

But how they will love that department when spring comes and Field Day! and speaking of Field Day reminds us that there are just lots of wonderful and interesting things to be looked forward to on the campus. Do not think we work all the time here at college, for even though we do work we have our share of play, happiness, and smiles. So Freshmen we want you to be a record making class; we are proud of you and we are for you 100 per cent.

Just try this over on that new portable vic:

"Smile a smile,
While you smile
Another smiles
And soon there're miles and miles
Of smiles, and life's worth while
If you but smile."

To the old girls, my admonition is "keep on keeping on."

Sincerely,
ETHEL C. BEAMAN

OFFICERS OF ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Miss Katherine Scott, President.
Miss Rosabel Burch, First Vice-President.

Mrs. Artie Belle Carter Lowe, Second Vice-President.
Miss Marguerite Jackson, Secretary.
Miss Mary Burns, Treasurer.

Executive Committee
Miss Katherine Scott.
Miss Rosabel Burch.
Miss Marguerite Jackson.
Miss Mary Burns.
Miss Lorene Teaver.
Miss Mary Brooks.

Alumnae Editor of Colonnade
Miss Josephine Williams.
Chairman of Y. W. C. A. Alumnae Committee
Miss Paunee Riggsby.

MRS. BEAMAN SENDS MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

Since the opening of school, I have spent my spare moments in retrospection and introspection, and as I have looked and listened and thought, I have been reminded of that quotation from the Bible, (Ecclesiastes 1-9)—"there is no new thing under the sun," and have been impressed, as never before, with the truth of it—The years come and go, and we do and say practically the same things. We use the same kind of material, only in different personalities. So much so, that certain things have become traditional, handed down, as it were, from one group to another, until many fine things are really synonymous of G. S. C. W. and despite the fact that each year is more or less a repetition of its predecessor, we continue to develop and expand in a tremendous way. Do you ask why this is true? Well, mainly because there is no newness. The wonderful spirit of our college is unwritten, yet seems innate in every girl, new as well as old, and although there must needs be a marked sameness year after year, we seem to find bigger and better ways of accomplishment. Each group runs to be an incentive to the following one, and each year Dr. Beeson and other officials, seem to find a more convincing, a more inspirational way of putting the idea across. And so I say that despite the fact that there is no new thing under the sun," there is a never ending supply of enthusiasm, determination appreciation, and splendid young womanhood. So to the student body I extend an old, but nevertheless sincere welcome. To the Freshmen I say:

"Smile a smile,
While you smile
Another smiles
And soon there're miles and miles
Of smiles, and life's worth while
If you but smile."

To the old girls, my admonition is "keep on keeping on."

Sincerely,
ETHEL C. BEAMAN

Sincerely,
ETHEL C. BEAMAN

OFFICERS OF ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Miss Katherine Scott, President.
Miss Rosabel Burch, First Vice-President.

Mrs. Artie Belle Carter Lowe, Second Vice-President.
Miss Marguerite Jackson, Secretary.
Miss Mary Burns, Treasurer.

Executive Committee
Miss Katherine Scott.
Miss Rosabel Burch.
Miss Marguerite Jackson.
Miss Mary Burns.
Miss Lorene Teaver.
Miss Mary Brooks.

Alumnae Editor of Colonnade
Miss Josephine Williams.
Chairman of Y. W. C. A. Alumnae Committee
Miss Paunee Riggsby.

Miss Katherine McCrackin, '29, is teaching in Lumber City, Ga.

Miss Ellie Ruth Lewis, '29, is teaching in Lythe, Ga.

TO THE ALUMNI

We, the Alumni Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association, wish to send a message to all of you graduates and former students of the Georgia State College for Women. We are sending a message to assure you of our loyalty, our willingness to help the Y. W. C. A. and all the Alumnae, and our co-operation at all times.

Nothing would give us more pleasure than letters from you telling of yourselves and your work. We want you to feel that we are the connecting link between you and the present student body, and that we are looking forward to working with and helping you both. We will appreciate and enjoy your letters; they will help us in getting up the Alumni page of the Colonnade, and in the edition of a new Alumni Bulletin. All of your former classmates will love to hear from you and know what you are doing. You couldn't possibly write to them all, you know, so won't you let us hear from you? And we'll let you hear from the Y in many different ways: through letters, messages, the pages of the Corinthian, and best of all, we hope to see EVERY ONE of you back home again sometime during Thanksgiving, the homecoming season at G. S. C.

Sincerely,
PAUNEE RIGSBY, Chairman,
Alumni Committee Y. W. C. A.

THE FIRST VESPER SERVICE

By Willie Baker, Chairman

A vesper service is a beautiful way to end the Sabbath. It puts us in a pleasant frame of mind and prepares us to begin the new week happily.

The first vesper service was a welcome program to the new girls and a challenge for the old girls. Of course the old girls know Dr. Beeson stand for the Y. W. C. A. because he has helped us on every occasion. The new girls learned this Sunday evening because Dr. Beeson talked at the vesper service. He brought out the practical side of our religion of today.

Miss Daughtry, our secretary showed us that the Y. W. C. A. is a place where we can find joy and inspiration. The president, Miss McLendon stressed the meaning of the purpose of the "Y". These vesper services are for the girls and we hope that through them many girls will find themselves. It will not be in the crowded throng that a personality will begin to develop, but in the quiet and solitude of some secluded spot. These services offer the quiet and solitude and we hope to give you stimulating programs.

A small boy was eating ravenously when his father addressed him saying: "Son, don't eat so much, you mustn't be a pig."

Receiving no reply he asked: "Son, do you know what a pig is?"

"Yes father, a hog's little boy."

Miss Spencer Darden, '29, is teaching in Moreland, Ga.

Miss Katherine Roberts, '29, is now in Pavo, Ga.

Miss Mildred Merrell, '29, is teaching in Chatsworth, Ga.

Miss Lucille Scroggins, '28, is teaching in Wewahatcha, Fla.

Miss Frances Christie, '29, is teaching in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Harlowe Thompson, '28, is teaching in Cedartown, Ga.

Miss Karoline Cheney, '29, is teaching Physical Education in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Miss Allaine Johnson, '30, is now attending Shorter College at Rome, Ga.

Miss Helen Cochran, '29, is a Girl Scout Executive in Macon, Ga.

Miss Juanita Garbrett, '29, is teaching in Savannah, Ga.

Miss Oughtrey Oliver, '29, is teaching in Ellaville, Ga.

Miss Katherine Bough, '30, is attending Randolph Macin College in Lynchburg, Va.

Miss Dorothy Park, '28, is taking a business course in Macon, Ga.

Miss Mary Julia Sasnett, '29, is teaching in Ideal, Ga.

Miss Emogene Curl, '29, is teaching in Claxton, Ga.

Miss Florence Rogers, '29, is Secretary of the Girl Reserves in Brunswick, Ga.

Miss Margaret B. Thompson, '29, is now in Swainsboro, Ga.

Miss Johnnie Tarver, '29, is now in Wadley, Ga.

Miss Evelyn Clarke, '28, is teaching in Swainsboro, Ga.

Miss Blanche Hamby, '25, is teaching in Lakeland, Fla.

Miss Virginia Williams, '26, is teaching in Lancaster, South Carolina.

Miss Doris Watkins, '29, is attending The Williams' School of Expression in Ithica, N. Y.

Miss Vivian McLendon, '29, is teaching in Griffin, Ga.

Miss Lois Briggs, '29, is teaching in Lyons, Ga.

Miss Dorothy Lauson, '29, is doing stenographic work in Sandersville, Ga.

Miss Marguerite Mathews, '29, has a position with the Proctor and Gamble Company in St. Louis, Mo.

THE COLONNADE

PUBLISHED TWICE MONTHLY BY STUDENTS OF THE GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN CORNER HANCOCK CLARK STS. MILLEDGEVILLE, GA.

Subscription Rate: 50, per year.

"Entered as second-class matter October 30, 1928, at the post office Milledgeville, Ga., under the Act of March 3, 1879."

COLONNADE STAFF 1929-1930

Faculty Advisor Dr. Wynn
Editor-in-Chief Caroline Selman
Business Manager Camilla Hutchinson
Associate Editor Austelle Adams
Associate Editor Mary Elliott
Assistant Business Manager Sally Hall
Feature Editor Mary Bohannon
Assistant Feature Editor Josephine Proctor
Alumnae Editor Josephine Williams
Society Editor Mary Kettles
Y. W. C. A. Editor Robertine McLendon
Circulation Manager Rebecca Holbrook

ASSISTANT CIRCULATION MANAGERS

Katherine Vinson Carolyn Russell
Gertrude Gilmore Frances Tarply
Antornette Lawrence Edith Elder
Helen Hogan Elizabeth Tucker
Ruth Lowther Georgia Russell

REPORTERS

Van Osmet Elizabeth Ballew
Iverson Dews

BELL'S SPECIAL SALE LADIES FINE SILK HOSE

Kayser's silk from tip to toe.
Black, Sun tan and all the new colors—
—$1.50—

IF YOU WANT THE BEST SHOP AT
E. E. BELL'S

"The Candy Hits"
"WOODWARDS"

Golf Mints, Orange, Lemon and Lime Drops, 5 cts. per Package
Pure Sugar and Fruit Flavors—We have the largest stock and assortment of 5c packages candies ever shown in Milledgeville.

Bell Grocery Company

263 Phones 498

"IT IS A FINE THING TO SING, SING IS THE THING"

Singing is the thing to make you happy!" Dr. Beeson's words, "smile, work and be happy," has become a slogan on the campus—the results are very evident. The "Y" girls quickly caught the spirit and made the new students very happy on the second night of their college year by an invitation to the auditorium for a "Sing."

Margaret Cunningham welcomed everyone and with her unusual smile lead in the singing of many snappy songs, which they sang lustily. The Thursday vesper service provided for another happy time together, when Mrs. Hines was present to teach some of the lovely hymns from the new blue "Y" song books. Let's keep singing hearts as well as voices on our campus this year.

A HIKE

On Saturday afternoon one of the first hikes of the season was enjoyed by a large group of Ennis girls. The Freshmen were initiated into the rites of gathering wood, making and keeping fires burning, frying tender steak and boiling coffee, in which pine needles were added to give that spicy tang so much desired. Rolls, buns and marshmallows completed the menu. Those present were: Ruth Brooks, Mary Belcher, Margaret Kittles, Bee Howard, Sara Howard, Margaret Housard, Julia Reese, Addie Atwood, Irma Vaughan, May Kittles, Nan Howley, Mildred O'Neal, Dot Anderson, Marjorie Neal, Daisy Veal, Alice Elder, Rita Watson, Elizabeth Morgan, Helen Hall, Mildred Cannon, Eubiel Hamby, and Elizabeth Groves.

BIRTHDAY FEAST

Miss Pauline Reynolds was honored at a feast last Sunday, which was her birthday. Delightful refreshments were served, consisting of salad and crackers, pickle, sandwiches and punch. At the conclusion of the feast a large birthday cake was cut. Those enjoying the feast were: Misses Pauline Reynolds, Josephine and Caroline Fountain, Lucy and Mary Agnes Anderson, Dorothy Hendricks, Mildred Anderson and Willard Ragan.

MANSION REUNION

Sunday night, September 22, a reunion of roommates was celebrated by the girls of Mansion 72. Those present included Mildred Sanders, Mary Kennedy, Juanita Kennedy, Regina Mills, Margaret Graham and Walter B. Mathews.

FAREWELL HIKE

An event of Mondayafternoon was a farewell hike given in honor of Miss Lillas Myrick by the Majors in the Chemistry Department. For two years Miss Myrick has been acting head of the Chemistry Department. It was with much regret that these girls bid her farewell before work on her Doctor's Degree. Those attending the hike included the chemistry faculty of G. S. C. W. and the Majors in that department.

ATKINSON FEAST

Dorens and Margaret Rucker entertained with a delightful feast in their room 14 Atkinson on Sunday night September 15. Their guests were: Hazel Rouse, Sara Cross, Rata Boeman, Mildred Lipham, Willie Mae Stowe and Sara Harvey.

Miss Dorothy Lawson and Miss Mabel Parker of Sandersville, were visitors in Ennis Hall Thursday.

Miss Julia Reese and Miss Virginia Pinkerton of Manton spent the week-end in Ennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Newnan Wood of Sandersville and Francis Wood, were guests of Jessie Wood Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bland of Sparta, were visitors on the campus Sunday.

Iverson and Lucy Dews attended the wedding of their sister in Decatur Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fendig of Brunswick, were the guests of Marjorie and Daisy Neal Saturday.

Mrs. W. O. Shivers and Mrs. Wray Smith of Sparta, were visitors to Miss Gertrude Shivers Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Alfriend of Sparta, was the guest of her daughter, Edith on Sunday.

Mrs. H. D. Chapman and Mrs. W. M. Berry of Sparta, were the guests of Martha Chapman Tuesday.

Miss Virginia Arnall of the faculty of Pope School in Savannah was a visitor on the campus.

Mrs. W. D. Domingos and Miss Sara Whitfield of Macon, were guests of Helen Domingos last Sunday.

Miss Fanny Little of Fort Valley, is visiting her sister, Lucile.

Miss Nellie Ivey of Forsyth, visited her former roommates in Mansion September 22.

Miss Vivian McLendon, who is now teaching Home Economics in the Griffin High School, was a visitor on the campus last week-end.

Mrs. Calvin Harp and Mrs. J. E. Breenson of Atlanta, visited Sara Cross Wednesday of last week.

MISS SIMMS ENTERTAINS
A very delightful tea was given by Miss Lillian Simms in 39 Terrell Sunday evening honoring her roommates, Misses Beth Thornton and Gussie Mullis.

The room was very attractively decorated. Miss Simms gracefully presided over the punch bowl.

Those present at this most enjoyable occasion were: Misses Parise Sasser, Idalee Cosby, Helen Jones, Mary Griffin, Margaret Oglesby, Irvine Walden, Elizabeth Sammons, Ruth Ratliff, Lucy Hitchcock, Marion White, Lillian Harden, Agnes Gam-mage, Fannie Barton, Beth Thornton, Gussie Mullis and others.

HAVE YOU JOINED A BIBLE STUDY CLASS?

TAKE YOUR CHOICE AS FITS YOUR RANK

Senior Teachers	Miss Alice Napier
Dr. Daniels	Miss L. R. J. Burditt
Dr. Webber
Junior Teachers	Freshmen Teachers
Miss Mable Rogers	Miss Annie Moore Daughtry
Miss Hallie Smith	Miss Ruth Jordan
Miss Eunie Belle Bolton	Miss Dorothy Jones
Sophomore Teachers	Miss Iverson Dews
Miss Lorine Teaver	Dr. Meadows
Dr. Julia Floyd	Miss Annie Jo Maye
Miss Annette Steele	Miss Margurite Jackson
Dr. Alice Hunter	Miss Burma Hartley
Miss Perkins	Miss Frances Mathews

Have we your permanent address? Please send the following information to Miss Margurite Jackson, Secretary of Alumnae, 607 Annex B, Milledgeville, Georgia.

Your Maiden Name.....
Your Married Name.....
Year Graduated or Attended.....
Permanent Address.....
Occupation.....

THE WORLD FEDERATION OF EDUCATION ASSOCIATIONS GENEVA, SWITZERLAND

Editor's Note. Geo. Harris Webber, who was a delegate to the World Federation of Education Associations and was in attendance for the entire session has been requested to write a series of articles of that great conference for the Colonnade. This is the introductory article.

In compliance with the request of the editors of the Colonnade for my impressions of the Third Biennial Conference of the World Federation of Education Associations held at Geneva, Switzerland July 24th to August 4th, 1929, I present this introductory article. This movement has such a vital place in the world's educational program that every teacher from the rural school to the university should know not only its present program but also its past history. In keeping with this idea, the introduction will deal with the organization and history of this world movement which had its inception a conference held in the United States six years ago. The writer was privileged to be present at this initial meeting held in San Francisco in July 1923.

What the World Federation is. The World Federation of Education Associations is an educational organization of world-wide scope. It is spiritual but non-sectarian, civic but non-political. It joins the educational forces of the world through the leaders of all countries. It seeks not to standardize education in the 63 sovereign countries, but to find those elements of education which are universal and apply them to the good of all nations. It is a great co-operative movement for good, believing that as the children are taught, so the future will be.

History of the Organization. At the close of the Great War, there was a universal desire to find some common ground upon which the nations could get together. The opinion was universal that some method must be found to drive out hate from the hearts of men and substitute the spirit of friendliness, goodwill and justice. The nations could not come together on political, economic or religious grounds. Where, then, could they meet?

The National Education Association of the United States believed that education was the one great constructive force which should be utilized to advance the status of civilization. This organization instructed its Committee on Foreign Relations to prepare a program for a world conference on education. This met with enthusiastic support from many countries, and the Conference was held in July 1923, in San Francisco. It was attended by about 600 delegates from 60 countries. Many nations sent delegates directly at national expense, and tremendous interest was manifested. It was decided that biennial conferences should be held; the first met in Edinburgh in 1925, the second at Toronto in 1927, and the third will be in Geneva in 1929.

The Permanent Organization. The outstanding achievement of the World Conference held in San Francisco in 1923 was the formation of a permanent organization to be known as the World Federation of Education Associations. Its special objectives are:

1. To promote friendship, justice and goodwill among the nations of the world.
2. To bring about a world-wide tolerance of the rights and privileges of all nations, regardless of race or creed.

3. To develop an appreciation of the value of inherited gifts of nations and races.
4. To secure more satisfying information and more adequate statement of facts for textbooks used in the schools of different countries.
5. To foster a national comradeship and confidence which will produce a more sympathetic appreciation among all nations.
6. To develop the consciousness of an international morality in the minds and hearts of the rising generation.

7. Finally, throughout the world in all schools, to emphasize the essential unity of mankind and the evils of war, and to develop a psychology of peace, together with a true patriotism based upon love of country rather than upon hatred of other peoples and countries.

Sections

The work of the Conference was divided into 19 sections as follows:

1. Parent, Teacher, Home and School.
2. Health Education.
3. Practical Education as distinct from Vocational Work.
4. Teachers Associations and the International Aspects of School Administration.
5. International Cooperation and Goodwill (General Questions).
6. International Cooperation and Goodwill (Preparation of Teachers).
7. International Cooperation and Goodwill (How it can be introduced into the Schools).
8. Behavior—The Problem Child.
9. Rural Life and Rural Education.
10. The Pre-School Child.
11. Social Adjustment through Education.
12. Education and the Press.
13. The International Aspect of Library Service.
14. From School to Labor.
15. Elementary Education.
16. Secondary Education.
17. Colleges and Universities.
18. Adult Education.
19. Military.

The theme of international understanding and goodwill through education was stressed in all these sections. In addition to the Section meetings, there were afternoon sessions of the Herman Jordan Peace Plan Committees.

Herman-Jordan Peace Plan: Following the world Conference on education in 1923 at San Francisco, Mr. R. Herman of Los Angeles, California, offered a prize of 25,000 dollars in a competitive contest for an educational plan best calculated to develop the spirit of justice and goodwill among the nations. This prize was placed in the hands of the World Federation of Education Associations, the conditions announced and a jury of distinguished men and women appointed. The contest was open to citizens of all countries.

An enormous number of plans were submitted, many political or religious rather than educational and after careful deliberation, the jury selected the plan proposed by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford University. This plan instead of setting up a full program of education or a ready-made course, proposed a series of fact-finding committees as a preliminary to the mature thought of special committees. After the facts are discovered and the subjects carefully considered, definite plans regarding methods, materials, attitudes and procedure are to be presented.

Five committees to study the facts were set up under this plan and have been functioning since their establishment. The reports of these committees were considered at the

Geneva Conference, and they formed an important part of the program:

Committees

- 1.—Education for Peace.
- 2.—Teaching of History and Patriotism.
- 3.—International Athletic Sports and International Relations of Youth.
- 4.—Military Education and Preparedness.
- 5.—General Machinery for International Cooperation.

Draft of Program

Thursday, July 25.
2:00 p. m.—Directors' Meeting.
5:00 planning Session for Delegates.
8:30 p. m.—Informal Gathering of all Delegates—Paylois Eynard.

Friday, July 26.
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting—Address on an International Subject—"The International Aspect of Education" Sir Gilbert Murray.
8:30 p. m.—Official Reception of Delegates by the Canton of Geneva, Salle Communale Plainpalais.

Saturday, July 27.
9:00 a. m.—Section Meetings.
2:00 p. m.—Meeting of Herman-Jordan Committees.
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting—Address on "Labor and Education" M. Albert Thomas.
8:30 p. m.—Festival Jaques-Dalcroze.

Sunday, July 28.
11:00 a. m.—Protestant Service in St. Peter's Cathedral; Roman-Catholic Service in the Church of Notre Dame; Undenominational Service in Victoria Hall; p. m.—Excursions.
8:30 p. m.—Festival Jaques-Dalcroze.

Monday, July 29.
9:00 a. m.—Section Meetings.
2:00 p. m.—Open sessions of Herman-Jordan Committees.
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting—Address on "Dante" as Schoolmaster" Prof. Arcan.
8:30 p. m.—General Meeting—Messages from representatives of countries.

Tuesday, July 30.
9:00 a. m.—Section Meetings.
2:00 p. m.—Open Sessions of Herman-Jordan Committees.
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting—Address by Count Hayashi.
8:30 p. m.—General Meeting—Visual Education.

Wednesday, July 31.
9:00 a. m.—Section Meetings.
2:00 p. m.—Open Sessions of Herman-Jordan Committees—"The Correlation of Vocational Training with General Culture."
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting.
8:30 p. m.—General Meeting—Messages from representatives of different countries—From Gertrude Brammen.

Thursday, August 1.
Excursion around the Lake—Lunch at Montreux.
8:30 p. m.—National Fete.

Friday, August 2.
9:00 a. m.—Section Meetings.
5:00 p. m.—General Meeting—Address "The Educational Systems of East and West and what they can learn from each other" Dr. Paul Monroe.
8:30 p. m.—Delegate Assembly—Reports and Resolutions—Pestalozzi, a Play by Theo Wyler-Nat Theatle.

Saturday, August 3.
9:00 a. m.—Delegate Assembly.
2:00 p. m.—Directors' Meeting.
5:00 p. m.—Farewell Meeting.

Officers and Directors of the World Federation of Education Associations President: Augustus O. Thomas, Augusta, Maine, U. S. A.
Vice-Presidents: Harry Choblesworth, Vancouver, B. C. Canada; P. W. Kuo, China Institute in America, N. Y.; Fred Mander, Bedford, England.

Secretary: Charles H. Williams, Columbia, Missouri.

Treasurer: E. A. Hardy, Toronto, Canada.
Field Representative: W. R. Siders, Pocatello, Idaho, U. S. A.
European Representative: E. J. Sainsbury, Surrey, England.
* Also Member Board of Directors.

Board of Directors
Miss Selma Borchardt, Washington, D. C.
Frank W. Goldstone, London.
Thomas Henderson, Edinburgh.
P. A. Inamdar, Aundh, India.
P. Ling, Peking, China.
D. D. MacDonald, Toronto, Canada.
Thomas J. O'Connell, Dublin, Ireland.
G. R. Parker, London.
Count Hirota Hayashi, Tokyo, Japan.
P. Seshadri, Benares, India.
Otto Tacke, Stettin, Germany.
Miss Mary Tweedie, Edinburgh.
Miss Annie C. Woodward, Somerville, Mass, U. S. A.
U. W. Lamkin, Maryville, Missouri, U. S. A.

To understand the real work of the federation will require a study of what went on in the committees and small group discussions. In subsequent articles I shall analyze the findings of these smaller units, the recommendations of the American delegates, and the conclusions reached in the final business session. In addition quotations and resumes of the important speeches will be given.

GEO. HARRIS WEBBER

A Beautiful Assortment of

MEMORY BOOKS
DIARIES, LOOSE LEAF MEMORANDUMS

Just Received At
Wootten's Book Store

AGNES SCOTT GIRLS TO LEAD VESPERS

Don't miss vesper Sunday night! Peggie Lou Armstrong and Elizabeth Flynn, the president and vice-president of Agnes Scott Y. W. C. A., will be present and talk. Peggie Lou is chairman of our Southern Regional Council and is also a member of the National Student Council. She is an American girl born in China—and has she personality?—Well, you'll see for yourself Sunday night. Elizabeth is from Atlanta, and together with Peggie Lou, they make a charming and interesting pair. They were at Blue Ridge this summer in the Agnes Scott group.

Vespers Sunday will also be the recognition service for all the new and old members of Y. W. C. A. This is one of the most beautiful and inspiring and impressive parts of the vesper services of the whole year. So—come to the auditorium, Sunday evening at six-thirty.

A descendant of Abraham was blissfully seated beneath a "No smoking" sign and as blissfully smoking when the custodian of the building appeared "Hey there! Can't you read that sign—'No smoking'?"

"Yes, yes mine friend, but eat does not say 'Positively'."

Old Man: "Can you give my daughter the luxuries to which she has been accustomed?"

Young Blood: "Not much longer. That's why I want to get married."

MA MAE TOLLER.

I call attention to one thing more—The new parlors in Terrell Hall. Where the girls can come to sit and sing.

And sometimes enjoy a social call.

So bear in mind now girls. These improvements are for you. So try to improve yourselves and be students loyal and true.

MA MAE TOLLER.

"Did you know that Lillian talked in her sleep?"

"No, does she?"

"Yes—she recited in class this morning."

An Irishman entered a waiting room, seeing there a rather pompous individual with a dog he said, "What kind of a dog have you there sir?"

"Part ape part Irish" was the answer.

"Ah, and then he's kin to the both of us."

there was a deprecating murmur, "Religious imperialism!"

All honor to this new sensitive-sempagan cannot with quite still semi-prayers cannot with quite the old assurance undertake to send Christianity overseas. A period characterized by this mood is probably inevitable as we come to closer quarters with the rest of the world.

But it would be a direct personal deprivation and evasion in a day when life is so magnificently "on the make," to rest content with this "hands off" stage. The enrapturement of the common knowledge of God as many fathers come more closely together calls for forth right action, not merely for sensitive forbearance. Here is one of the central attractions of the foreign secretaryship in the Y. W. C. A. Here, too, is one of the central appeals of our program of international education; in the last analysis it will lead to new discoveries of God. Into that experience the Week of World Fellowship and worship is an open door.

RELIGION IN AN INTERNATIONAL AGE

Mary Elliott

"Worship is essentially the praise and celebration of life." Out of this sentence we take the text for this year's observance of the week of World Fellowship and Worship which for a few days in each November gathers up into one more or less unified company all of the Christian Associations of the world.

For full observance of World Fellowship Week our knowledge of the world today and our theology ought to go hand in hand. Is our theology keeping pace with our international interest? Is there indeed, a theology in our midst which is adequate for "the international age?" We would suggest that in this conception of worship as a celebration, a flooding consciousness of God creating the life of our time, may be found a motive strong enough to lift this generation out of its insubstantial religious befuddlement.

On all sides in this country today one is met with the statement, "there is so much that is good in all religions, why have any special concern about making Christianity known?" We are inclined to believe that the principal reason for this fast spreading attitude is based on courtesy. When one sits around the same discussion table with people who have been brought up in Buddhism, questions of Confucianism, he does not so readily assert the supremacy of his own faith as he might if oceans and custom separated him from the others. It is simply not the courteous thing to do. By the same token the peoples of this earth are coming so close to gether in the communication of ideas that religious arrogance is softened by neighborliness. What this new hospitality of spirit will mean for the future of religion is not yet clear, but it gives one a stirring sense of God at work in His world.

On the other hand, much of the cause for this new tolerance seems to spring from a certain laziness, from lack of awareness of the fact that we are in a second age of renaissance. Our confidence in authoritarianism and dogma has been profoundly shaken. Until some new conception of authority or test of truth takes its place, the simplest thing is to fall back on the "laissez-faire" attitude. But by this very sensitiveness and new aversion to dogmatism, we are in danger of losing out on one of the greatest developments of our century—the formation, as the world gets smaller, of the religious of humanity.

In this formation we need no fear for what will happen to the faith in which most of us who read this have been brought up, that Jesus, was intensely and continually forth reaching and eager to identify himself with all the manifestations of life around Him. In a college discussion group at one of this summer's conferences, a Japanese guest was the only one present who seemed to feel his sense of urgency. "But Christianity is different!" said this one person in the room who had been brought up in a non-Christian country. "When you cannot rest—your reach out! You reach out!" Several of the young Americans present shook their heads,

Why, hello teachers, school mates too,
Matrons, assistants and all,
How happy we are to see back again.
We're enjoying school this fall.

And oh! the improvements are wonderful
The dormitories have had much repair,
Just look at the painting and cleaning
In your rooms and everywhere.

Guess you'll noticed these improvements
That were done so soon and quick.
And we're proud of the new
Painted floors
If we do sometimes sit and stick.

This wonderful work continues
Around Parks Hall, My Friend,
And there you'll see the outside
Being painted as well as the in.

And the beautiful flowers and shrubbery
Have cost much labor and care,
And hundreds of other things
That in many schools are so rare.

So bear in mind now girls
These improvements are for you,
So try to improve yourselves and be
students loyal and true.

MA MAE TOLLER.

"Did you know that Lillian talked in her sleep?"

"No, does she?"

"Yes—she recited in class this morning."

An Irishman entered a waiting room, seeing there a rather pompous individual with a dog he said, "What kind of a dog have you there sir?"

"Part ape part Irish" was the answer.

"Ah, and then he's kin to the both of us."

there was a deprecating murmur, "Religious imperialism!"

All honor to this new sensitive-sempagan cannot with quite still semi-prayers cannot with quite the old assurance undertake to send Christianity overseas. A period characterized by this mood is probably inevitable as we come to closer quarters with the rest of the world.

But it would be a direct personal deprivation and evasion in a day when life is so magnificently "on the make," to rest content with this "hands off" stage. The enrapturement of the common knowledge of God as many fathers come more closely together calls for forth right action, not merely for sensitive forbearance. Here is one of the central attractions of the foreign secretaryship in the Y. W. C. A. Here, too, is one of the central appeals of our program of international education; in the last analysis it will lead to new discoveries of God. Into that experience the Week of World Fellowship and worship is an open door.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Mary Elliott

"Worship is essentially the praise and celebration of life." Out of this sentence we take the text for this year's observance of the week of World Fellowship and Worship which for a few days in each November gathers up into one more or less unified company all of the Christian Associations of the world.

For full observance of World Fellowship Week our knowledge of the world today and our theology ought to go hand in hand. Is our theology keeping pace with our international interest? Is there indeed, a theology in our midst which is adequate for "the international age?" We would suggest that in this conception of worship as a celebration, a flooding consciousness of God creating the life of our time, may be found a motive strong enough to lift this generation out of its insubstantial religious befuddlement.

On all sides in this country today one is met with the statement, "there is so much that is good in all religions, why have any special concern about making Christianity known?" We are inclined to believe that the principal reason for this fast spreading attitude is based on courtesy. When one sits around the same discussion table with people who have been brought up in Buddhism, questions of Confucianism, he does not so readily assert the supremacy of his own faith as he might if oceans and custom separated him from the others. It is simply not the courteous thing to do. By the same token the peoples of this earth are coming so close to gether in the communication of ideas that religious arrogance is softened by neighborliness. What this new hospitality of spirit will mean for the future of religion is not yet clear, but it gives one a stirring sense of God at work in His world.

On the other hand, much of the cause for this new tolerance seems to spring from a certain laziness, from lack of awareness of the fact that we are in a second age of renaissance. Our confidence in authoritarianism and dogma has been profoundly shaken. Until some new conception of authority or test of truth takes its place, the simplest thing is to fall back on the "laissez-faire" attitude. But by this very sensitiveness and new aversion to dogmatism, we are in danger of losing out on one of the greatest developments of our century—the formation, as the world gets smaller, of the religious of humanity.

In this formation we need no fear for what will happen to the faith in which most of us who read this have been brought up, that Jesus, was intensely and continually forth reaching and eager to identify himself with all the manifestations of life around Him. In a college discussion group at one of this summer's conferences, a Japanese guest was the only one present who seemed to feel his sense of urgency. "But Christianity is different!" said this one person in the room who had been brought up in a non-Christian country. "When you cannot rest—your reach out! You reach out!" Several of the young Americans present shook their heads,

Why, hello teachers, school mates too,
Matrons, assistants and all,
How happy we are to see back again.
We're enjoying school this fall.

And oh! the improvements are wonderful
The dormitories have had much repair,
Just look at the painting and cleaning
In your rooms and everywhere.

Guess you'll noticed these improvements
That were done so soon and quick.
And we're proud of the new
Painted floors
If we do sometimes sit and stick.

This wonderful work continues
Around Parks Hall, My Friend,
And there you'll see the outside
Being painted as well as the in.

And the beautiful flowers and shrubbery
Have cost much labor and care,
And hundreds of other things
That in many schools are so rare.

So bear in mind now girls
These improvements are for you,
So try to improve yourselves and be
students loyal and true.

MA MAE TOLLER.

"Did you know that Lillian talked in her sleep?"

"No, does she?"

"Yes—she recited in class this morning."

An Irishman entered a waiting room, seeing there a rather pompous individual with a dog he said, "What kind of a dog have you there sir?"

"Part ape part Irish" was the answer.

"Ah, and then he's kin to the both of us."

there was a deprecating murmur, "Religious imperialism!"

All honor to this new sensitive-sempagan cannot with quite still semi-prayers cannot with quite the old assurance undertake to send Christianity overseas. A period characterized by this mood is probably inevitable as we come to closer quarters with the rest of the world.

But it would be a direct personal deprivation and evasion in a day when life is so magnificently "on the make," to rest content with this "hands off" stage. The enrapturement of the common knowledge of God as many fathers come more closely together calls for forth right action, not merely for sensitive forbearance. Here is one of the central attractions of the foreign secretaryship in the Y. W. C. A. Here, too, is one of the central appeals of our program of international education; in the last analysis it will lead to new discoveries of God. Into that experience the Week of World Fellowship and worship is an open door.

FEATURE PAGE

MARY BOHANNON, Editor

RELIGION IN AN INTERNATIONAL AGE

Mary Elliott

"Worship is essentially the praise and celebration of life." Out of this sentence we take the text for this year's observance of the week of World Fellowship and Worship which for a few days in each November gathers up into one more or less unified company all of the Christian Associations of the world.

For full observance of World Fellowship Week our knowledge of the world today and our theology ought to go hand in hand. Is our theology keeping pace with our international interest? Is there indeed, a theology in our midst which is adequate for "the international age?" We would suggest that in this conception of worship as a celebration, a flooding consciousness of God creating the life of our time, may be found a motive strong enough to lift this generation out of its insubstantial religious befuddlement.

On all sides in this country today one is met with the statement, "there is so much that is good in all religions, why have any special concern about making Christianity known?" We are inclined to believe that the principal reason for this fast spreading attitude is based on courtesy. When one sits around the same discussion table with people who have been brought up in Buddhism, questions of Confucianism, he does not so readily assert the supremacy of his own faith as he might if oceans and custom separated him from the others. It is simply not the courteous thing to do. By the same token the peoples of this earth are coming so close to gether in the communication of ideas that religious arrogance is softened by neighborliness. What this new hospitality of spirit will mean for the future of religion is not yet clear, but it gives one a stirring sense of God at work in His world.

On the other hand, much of the cause for this new tolerance seems to spring from a certain laziness, from lack of awareness of the fact that we are in a second age of renaissance. Our confidence in authoritarianism and dogma has been profoundly shaken. Until some new conception of authority or test of truth takes its place, the simplest thing is to fall back on the "laissez-faire" attitude. But by this very sensitiveness and new aversion to dogmatism, we are in danger of losing out on one of the greatest developments of our century—the formation, as the world gets smaller, of the religious of humanity.

In this formation we need no fear for what will happen to the faith in which most of us who read this have been brought up, that Jesus, was intensely and continually forth reaching and eager to identify himself with all the manifestations of life around Him. In a college discussion group at one of this summer's conferences, a Japanese guest was the only one present who seemed to feel his sense of urgency. "But Christianity is different!" said this one person in the room who had been brought up in a non-Christian country. "When you cannot rest—your reach out! You reach out!" Several of the young Americans present shook their heads,

Why, hello teachers, school mates too,
Matrons, assistants and all,
How happy we are to see back again.
We're enjoying school this fall.

And oh! the improvements are wonderful
The dormitories have had much repair,
Just look at the painting and cleaning
In your rooms and everywhere.

Guess you'll noticed these improvements
That were done so soon and quick.
And we're proud of the new
Painted floors
If we do sometimes sit and stick.

This wonderful work continues
Around Parks Hall, My Friend,
And there you'll see the outside
Being painted as well as the in.

And the beautiful flowers and shrubbery
Have cost much labor and care,
And hundreds of other things
That in many schools are so rare.

So bear in mind now girls
These improvements are for you,
So try to improve yourselves and be
students loyal and true.

MA MAE TOLLER.

"Did you know that Lillian talked in her sleep?"

"No, does she?"

"Yes—she recited in class this morning."

An Irishman entered a waiting room, seeing there a rather pompous individual with a dog he said, "What kind of a dog have you there sir?"

"Part ape part Irish" was the answer.

"Ah, and then he's kin to the both of us."

there was a deprecating murmur, "Religious imperialism!"

All honor to this new sensitive-sempagan cannot with quite still semi-prayers cannot with quite the old assurance undertake to send Christianity overseas. A period characterized by this mood is probably inevitable as we come to closer quarters with the rest of the world.

But it would be a direct personal deprivation and evasion in a day when life is so magnificently "on the make," to rest content with this "hands off" stage. The enrapturement of the common knowledge of God as many fathers come more closely together calls for forth right action, not merely for sensitive forbearance. Here is one of the central attractions of the foreign secretaryship in the Y. W. C. A. Here, too, is one of the central appeals of our program of international education; in the last analysis it will lead to new discoveries of God. Into that experience the Week of World Fellowship and worship is an open door.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Mary Elliott

"Worship is essentially the praise and celebration of life." Out of this sentence we take the text for this year's observance of the week of World Fellowship and Worship which for a few days in each November gathers up into one more or less unified company all of the Christian Associations of the world.

For full observance of World Fellowship Week our knowledge of the world today and our theology ought to go hand in hand. Is our theology keeping pace with our international interest? Is there indeed, a theology in our midst which is adequate for "the international age?" We would suggest that in this conception of worship as a celebration, a flooding consciousness of God creating the life of our time, may be found a motive strong enough to lift this generation out of its insubstantial religious befuddlement.

On all sides in this country today one is met with the statement, "there is so much that is good in all religions, why have any special concern about making Christianity known?" We are inclined to believe that the principal reason for this fast spreading attitude is based on courtesy. When one sits around the same discussion table with people who have been brought up in Buddhism, questions of Confucianism, he does not so readily assert the supremacy of his own faith as he might if oceans and custom separated him from the others. It is simply not the courteous thing to do. By the same token the peoples of this earth are coming so close to gether in the communication of ideas that religious arrogance is softened by neighborliness. What this new hospitality of spirit will mean for the future of religion is not yet clear, but it gives one a stirring sense of God at work in His world.

On the other hand, much of the cause for this new tolerance seems to spring from a certain laziness, from lack of awareness of the fact that we are in a second age of renaissance. Our confidence in authoritarianism and dogma has been profoundly shaken. Until some new conception of authority or test of truth takes its place, the simplest thing is to fall back on the "laissez-faire" attitude. But by this very sensitiveness and new aversion to dogmatism, we are in danger of losing out on one of the greatest developments of our century—the formation, as the world gets smaller, of the religious of humanity.

In this formation we need no fear for what will happen to the faith in which most of us who read this have been brought up, that Jesus, was intensely and continually forth reaching and eager to identify himself with all the manifestations of life around Him. In a college discussion group at one of this summer's conferences, a Japanese guest was the only one present who seemed to feel his sense of urgency. "But Christianity is different!" said this one person in the room who had been brought up in a non-Christian country. "When you cannot rest—your reach out! You reach out!" Several of the young Americans present shook their heads,

Why, hello teachers, school mates too,
Matrons, assistants and all,
How happy we are to see back again.
We

When you have a Prescription to be filled Phone us, we send for and Deliver them Promptly.

FRALEY'S PHARMACY

Day 118 Phones Night 5

KODAK—With Eastman Kodaks in NEW COLORS filled with Genuine Eastman Films.

"If it isn't Eastman
It isn't Kodak;
If it isn't Eastman Film
It isn't Kodak Film."

BUY THEM FROM—

Williams & Ritchie

Milledgeville Music Store

Radios, Phonographs, And Latest Records and Sheet Music

G. S. C. W. Always Welcome

MILLEDGEVILLE'S ONLY COMPLETE MUSIC STORE

One Thousand Bottles of Sheaffer's Writing Fluid for G. S. C.
Girls. Every girl who reads this add and brings in 10c by October 1st, will receive a 15c bottle of Sheaffer's Skrip.

WE WILL SEE WHO READS THE COLONNADE

J. C. Grant Co., Jewelers

Bank With Milledgeville Banking Co.

"THE OLDEST, LARGEST AND STRONGEST"

You Make No Mistake When You Have Your Shoes Repaired By

HARPER & HARPER

119 W. Hancock St. Phone 215

PROMPT SERVICE

Have You Bought Your New Fall Hat? Don't Fail to See our New Line

MRS. EULA STANLEY

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS TO

Eberhart Studio

SIX G. S. C. W. GIRLS GO TO BLUE RIDGE

By Dorcas Rucker

It was five o'clock in the morning on June 5, 1929, that six G. S. C. W. girls, Robertine McClendon, Rebecca Holbrook, Elizabeth Tucker, Alveretta Kenon, Mildred McWhorter, Dorcas Rucker, accompanied by their Y. W. C. A. Secretary, Miss Annie Moore Daughtry set out for Blue Ridge, N. C. Through special arrangements the Milledgeville-Macon bus was chartered to carry them. Even before they were off the campus they had decided that by bus "is the only way to travel."

Five o'clock is before breakfast remember, and G. S. C. girls never refuse to partake of a repast. Through the kindness of the college, breakfast and several lunches had been packed for the trip. At least every half-hour from 5 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, someone felt it necessary to nibble on another sandwich. In fact the only thing that kept "Robbie" awake and interested was the mention of unpacking the lunches again. In addition however, she carried a light lunch of brown bread and butter.

It was 2:30 P. M. before anyone realized it, and the bus was on the streets of Ashville. Grove Park Inn was visited. All left it determined to go there and there only on a honeymoon.

It was late afternoon when the bus parked in front of Lee Hall at Blue Ridge and Miss Willa R. Young rushed out to greet G. S. C. W. "A special bus?" she said, "my what class!"

Things had just begun then. Interesting people on every side! Miss Seesholtz who led worship, Dr. Sayer who led discussions on the better understanding of Jesus, Dr. Elaezer who spoke on international relations.

There was fun too, and plenty. The first hike of importance to G. S. C. was one to High Top on a muddy afternoon. "Little Liz Tucker" was the most interested of all. At the last minute, however, she rushed to the room to leave the sweaters of half the party. Two miles of the trip were left behind when alveretta brilliantly questioned, "where is Liz?" She had been unwittingly left behind. Miss Daughtry begged to be allowed to go back for her but the others would not consent. Upon returning, it was found that "Liz" had searched in the edge of the wood and called for at least an hour. She had apologies.

On June 15, the de luxe bus of G. S. C. came back and all the delegates who were still at Blue Ridge were invited out on the front of Lee Hall to see G. S. C. depart in "the only way travel."

CONSTITUTION WEEK

The History Club, under the direction of Dr. Amanda Johnson, sponsored the Constitution Day Program presented in chapel Friday, September 19, 1929.

Dorcas Rucker acted as chairman. The program was.

1. Scripture reading — Idalene Cosley.
2. Song—America.
3. History of the Constitution—Beverly Brantly.
4. One act play—The Making of The Constitution.
5. Extracts from Websters Address—Josephine Procter.
6. Solo—Mrs. Long.
7. Star Spangled Banner.

Welcome! G.S.C.W. Girls

TOASTED SANDWICHES, CAKES, AND ICES

Culver & Kidd Drug Co.

"OF COURSE"

Pies, Cakes, Cookies, Tarts

SWEETS AFTER THE G. S. C. GIRL'S HEARTS

Electric Maid Bake Shop

Lee's Department Store

DRY GOOD NOTIONS SHOES—LADIES READY TO WEAR

"LEE'S FOR LESS"

WELCOME G. S. C. W. GIRLS!

Get what you want in School Supplies and Notions from

Chandler's Variety Store

WE ARE WAITING FOR YOU

"THE HAMBURGER WHAT AM"

HENDRICKSON'S

SCANDWICH STAND

OUR NEW FALL DRESSES, COATS, AND HATS ARE HERE

COME TO US FOR THE LATEST SHADES AND STYLES

CARR'S EMPORIUM

Style and Quality at The Dixie Shop

VANETTE HOSIERY IN ALL FALL SHADES INCLUDING BLACK

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

THE DIXIE SHOP